June 2004 Update

- New faces, new places...next time you are in the CLC office please welcome Heather Christensen...our new office manager as of July 6.
- This summer CLCs are staging a Nutrition Olympics in partnership with the Community Health Endowment and the Lincoln Saltdogs. "Covering the Bases of Health" will be topped off August 12 with a Healthy Kids Day at Haymarket Park.
- On July 12 Lincoln will be presenting at the Partners for Success: Linking Communities, Families and Schools conference in Kansas City. This annual conference, sponsored by The School of the 21st Century, has traditionally been held at Yale. Presenters in the fishbowl entitled "Community Conversations: What Makes Community Learning Centers Successful" will be Phil Schoo, Bill Johnston, Pam Sedlacek, Benjamin Zink, Barb Bartle, Bonnie Coffey, Lea Ann Johnson and Cathie Petsch. Site Supervisors Melissa Kirkland and Sherry Pawelko and Principal Kathy Evasco will also attend the conference.
- Knock, knock...What's up on Saturday mornings at 8 am. ??? You...if you want to catch CLCs on the Heartland cable channel. As part of our public awareness campaign, we are advertising for the next six months on Channel 2 and Channel 18. This promotion is brought to you by the Communication/Public Engagement committee and Sterling Communications.
- Soon Lincoln's Community Learning Center initiative will be featured in an in-depth newsletter on the Coalition for Community Schools web page. So bookmark it now <http://www.communityschools.org/newsletter/v.3.5.html>
- Site Supervisors Ryan Mohling, Lakeview/Everett and Kathie Phillips, Saratoga will attend the Summer 21st Century Institute July 22-23 in Los Angeles.
- Snaps to CLC Leadership Council member Tom Sattler on his election as chair of the Foundation for Lincoln Public Schools. The even better news is that he will also continue to co-chair the Communication/Public Engagement committee.
- The Phil Schoo CLC Legacy Fund is at $60,000 and continues to grow. Contributions can be made to the Foundation for Lincoln Public Schools.
